Growing Healthy Soils on Ranches & Farms

Hosted by: Ridgewood Ranch, Willits, CA

North of Ukiah, at US-101 mile marker 39.43 turn west onto Mobile Village Way, then right onto Ridgewood Ranch Rd. Large parking lot is at Orchard Ln., just south of Seabiscuit Dr. (GPS does not seem to provide accurate directions.)

Join this rancher-to-rancher discussion and make key improvements to your operation, whether your ranch is large or tiny. BRING YOUR LUNCH.

Growing Better Soil:

- Soil health
- Replacing weeds with high quality forage
- Planning profitability
- Ideal land infrastructure and layout
- Using high animal impact to build soil, grassland health, animal performance, and productivity
- Accelerating improvements in grasslands, oak woodlands, riparian corridors, and wetlands with planned grazing
- Biological Monitoring

Richard King lives on the outskirts of Petaluma and enjoys growing soil, biodiversity, and profit on his family's land. He has professional certifications with Holistic Management International, the Savory Institute, the CA State Board of Forestry & Fire Protection, and the Society for Range Management.
